Dear Admissions Officer:

I am pleased to announce that the Fattah Conference on Higher Education will convene its 23rd Graduate Opportunities Conference on Thursday, February 5th through Saturday February 7th 2009 at the Sheraton Philadelphia City Center Hotel, located at 17th and Race Streets in Philadelphia. Over twenty years ago, Congressman Chaka Fattah had a vision: create an environment where minority students would convene annually to be further motivated and inspired to reach beyond undergraduate school, and take the next step in completing the educational circle to pursue Masters and terminal degrees.

We are excited about the tremendous success that we have achieved over the years, the students that have benefited from this conference as well as the lives that have been changed as a result of the commitment from schools throughout the city and the personal resolve from individuals such as you. We have grown and succeeded together and I sincerely thank you.

The Undergraduate College Fair is scheduled for Thursday, February 5th from 11:30 AM until 1:30 PM. There will be approximately 700 metro Philadelphia high school and community college students in attendance. Please note that the date has changed from the date that was indicated on the Save the Date correspondence.

We invite you or another representative of your institution to participate in the College Fair. Please find enclosed the registration form. Registration and participation is FREE.

All questions, responses, and hotel reservation requests should be directed to Ms. Sandra Marigna at 215.472.2500/267.231.9104 or via email at smarigna@eaalliance.org. Our fax number is: 215.472.2440. Again, thank you for the continued support and participation of your university as we look forward to another twenty years of future success.

Sincerely,

Karen E. Nicholas
